

A woman with long brown hair and red glasses is shown from the side, looking intently at a large, detailed historical map. The map features various geographical features like mountains, rivers, and numerous place names in Italian, such as "S. Bartolomeo", "S. Maria", "S. Rocco", "S. Giovanni", "S. Pietro", "S. Paolo", "S. Andrea", "S. Luca", "S. Matteo", "S. Marco", "S. Michele", "S. Gabriele", "S. Raffaele", "S. Arcangelo", "S. Zaccaria", "S. Elia", "S. Elisha", "S. Elisabetta", "S. Anna", "S. Caterina", "S. Agnese", "S. Lucia", "S. Rosa", "S. Giuseppina", "S. Barbara", "S. Brigida", "S. Vincenza", "S. Rita", "S. Giustina". The map is drawn in a classic woodcut style with fine lines and shading. The background of the entire graphic is split diagonally from the top right corner into a solid blue upper half and a white lower half. The title "STORIE PER LA STORIA" is written in large, bold, blue capital letters across the boundary between the two colors. Below it, a quote in smaller blue capital letters reads: "QUELLO CHE HAI EREDITATO DAI TUOI PADRI, RIGUADAGNALO, PER POSSEDERLO" (JOHANN WOLFGANG VON GOETHE, FAUST, 1831 -1949). At the bottom, the date "MERCOLEDÌ 7 APRILE" and the event name "I BANDITI DI GIOSUÈ" are also in blue capital letters.
